

Megamedia giants should not "own" the airwaves. To me, this is similar to the type of scenario pictured in George Orwell's novel, "1984", except that, instead of being a socialist dictator, Big Brother would become one of the few CEOs now controlling the airwaves. The United States of America does not need a Rupert Murdoch, Ted Turner, or Mel Carmizon to tell its citizens how to think and behave. This proposed regulation would result in less, and not more, diversity on the airwaves. On June 2nd, I urge you to roll back the current ownership rules and return the airwaves to the public, and not to conglomerate media giants. In short, I oppose the changing of media ownership rules as proposed by this regulation. DO NOT PRIVATIZE OUR AIRWAVES!!!
